

Parent Session:

How to help your child thrive with literacy learning

Hear from literacy development researcher Dr Noella Mackenzie as she discusses:

- ways you can support your child as they learn to draw, write and read
- important drawing and writing milestones for children from birth
- the links between drawing, writing and reading
- how you can support your child to draw, talk and write
- how reading aloud to your child develops their oral language, vocabulary and listening comprehension - all critical for literacy development.

All Parents, Grandparents and Carers in the Devonport area are welcome to attend.
